To Denison

To Denison, we raise our song
Fair college on the hill,
The name that sets our souls on fire,
And makes our senses thrill;
TO Denison, my Denison,
In praise our voices swell,
The scenes of happy college days,
The home we love so well.

O morning glow which gilds the east,
O sun which shines at noon,
O stars which bloom at eventide,
O radiant glowing moon,
Look from the pathless azure dome,
Shed blessing from above,
In college halls and college walls,
The Denison we love.

When from the fold we far shall stray
With souls forever young,
We'll never forget our college days,
These happy scenes among;
And when our steps have feeble grown,
Our journey almost done,
E'en then with fleeting breath we'll praise,
Our dear old Denison.

~V.E. Field, 1903

Welcome to Denison University!

One behalf of the Denison Campus Governance Association (DCGA), I would like to welcome you to our community on the Hill.

I am sure you are wondering what college life is like, now that you have signed up for an exciting four years of your life away and have stepped onto campus, embarking on a new stage of you life. Questions about professors, classes, roommates, athletics, and parties are only natural when thinking about your upcoming Denison experience. The great news is that you have already started to discover the answers to these questions.

The college years are touted as the best years of your life, the last bastion of freedom that we have before we embark on that long road to the rest of our lives. However, that does not happen by accident; you cannot expect to fall into great memories while at school. It is up to you the student, you the individual, you the member of the Denison Community to make those memories for yourself. To sum it all up your years at college is only one thing: potential. It is up to you to recognize the direction you wish to go and grab hold of it. We only have four years here on the hill, and they will be gone before you know it.

So again, welcome to the class of 2005. This is your school now, its up to you to shape it and sculpt it. Don't be afraid to make it your own.

Best Wishes,
Jon Rybka

Student Body President 2001-2002
Denison Campus Governance Association

Organizing this book and viewing everyone's pictures has offered me a great chance to reflect on my experiences at Denison. The four years of college pass so quickly, as any student can agree, but will probably not fully understand until the day of graduation. What's most important about this crazy flutter of time is the way it is spent, and I cannot suggest anything more than to make the most out of every moment.

The introduction pictures represent as much of student life as can possibly be assembled in one small book. Though all the faces might not yet look familiar, realize that the photos suggest the same idea of enjoying everything that college can offer—both in terms of academic or extracurricular achievements and residential community life. Learn from the pictures and think of them as reminders of all that awaits the new student as part of his or her individual Denison experience.

Best wishes,

What is the D.C.G.A. Senate? Things to know...

Senate is made up of a group of students elected by the general student body. There are two co-governors and eight senators for every class, plus two representatives from each of the following communities: African American, Asian American, G/L/B/T, Latino, Jewish, and International. Elections are early in the fall for first-year students and in the spring for all other positions. Through both legislative decisions and work within individual committees, Senate ensures direct participation in campus governance in every aspect from campus construction projects to decisions about residential life. Meet your representatives and talk to them about ways to get more involved. We meet every Tuesday night at 6:30 pm in Knapp Amphitheatre, and every Senate meeting is open to the public. We encourage everyone to visit and learn more about all of the work your representatives do to improve campus life.

Residential Life

The friends found at college are an important part of the memories that will last far beyond your days in college. You get out of any experience what you put into it, so make an effort to meet your neighbors. Also, don't forget to talk with your residential assistants and head residents. They are trained to help answer specific questions, and they work hard to help students adjust to the residential climate.

The Committee on Residential Life is a group of students, staff, faculty, and administrators that meets to discuss issues affecting all aspects of residential life. To find out more about the committee, talk to the chair at Stowe_1@denison.edu. Also, visiting the Office of Campus and Residential Life in Doane will acquaint you with the people and information necessary to help you with any questions or concerns.

Academics

At an institution like Denison University, academics always constitute a high priority. Though it is obvious that your studies will demand a significant amount of time, it should be relieving to know how much help is available if you discover that extra guidance might help you achieve more. The Office of Academic Support in Doane can help you with everything from study tips to tutoring connections. Individual departments also have some teaching assistants available outside of class hours, so make certain to talk to your professor about any concerns you might have. In addition, the campus Writing Center is available for students to meet with trained tutors to discuss any aspect of a paper. Through all of these options and the student-run Academics committee (chaired by Beth Kalish '02), any academic concern a student might have should be resolved quickly.

People To Know

Figuring out who is the best person to talk with about a specific issue or question is one of the most intimidating aspects of coming to a new place. Any number of people will direct you to the proper location if you are unsure, so do not worry about asking a wrong question. Doane Administration Building is where a number of important offices and services are located. There, you can find Dr. Don Schilling, Dean of First Year Programs, and Ronda Barber, Administrative Assistant to the Dean, who together program the June and August Orientations. Dr. Sam Thios, Vice President for Student Affairs and Dean of Students, and Dr. Sarah Westfall, Associate Dean of Students, have offices on the same floor as well. Doane is also home to our President's and Provost's offices, as well as the offices of the Registrar, Campus Security, Multicultural Affairs, Operator, and Cashier.

Student Activities

Committed to empowering the students, Denison University offers a wide array of activities to join. They exist so that you can find ways to gain valuable experiences and meet other people who share your interests. As a student at a liberal arts institution, take advantage of the diverse possibilities to become involved and meet new students.
